Dear Tai Sam

I returned this morning and called Anne from the airport, hoping you & she could come down. I'm sorry to find you out. I called Pupukea but nobody was there.

My trip to Japan turned out quite differently from my expectations, as I failed to persuade Roshi that I should stay at an inn and consult with him secretly.

I promised Roshi that you and Anne and I would discuss the matter dispassionately and try to clear the air. Please come over when you get back. Yours Bob
