Dear friends,

Thank you again for sending those miserable boxes. Enclosed is a check for $6.65.

I've been attending the Academy of Fine Arts night school, and this study of art is beginning to get to the disease stage—almost like dancing. I'm thinking of applying for day school. Right now Don is working on a perspective problem. It looks like an impossible thing to do: I can't imagine what it all means!

Saturday night Bernard Phillips is speaking at Swarthmore College on the Sufis—I believe I'll go.

It's getting so cold here, especially at night! We freeze. Michael tells us our studio has practically no heat in winter. He said if it's 10° outside, it's only about 25° or 30° in the studio. That's pretty scary.

I hope you are well.

Best regards,

Margaret C.
