

<http://de.wikipedia.org/wiki/Lassalle-Haus>

Lassalle-Haus

Lassalle-Haus, bad Schünbrunn

The Lassalle-Haus is a Centre for interreligious encounter with a focus on spirituality, dialogue and responsibility. The non-profit Bildungshaus with the biggest own program under the ecclesiastical houses of Switzerland is located in Edlibach Menzingen in the Canton Zug. Over 80 course instructor and course instructors teach in the Lassalle-Haus. 5500 guests annually visit the various offers 22,000 training days. According to the demands of national heritage policies of the Canton, the building belongs to the protected objects of the modern. ^[1]

Program

Every year about 150 courses, seminars, conferences, training courses and travel are available. They are aimed at a broad-based, adult audience aiming to convey traditional spiritual paths in a mostly performance-oriented world, and to promote the interreligious competence in an increasingly multicultural society. Content is for example Interreligiouser dialogue, encounter of religions, Zen, retreats, contemplation, meditation, dance, ethics, mysticism & spirituality, fasting and healing, liturgy, art, etc. mediated by around 50 speakers. The House is also open to external educational institutions and organizations and offers a professional infrastructure with room for 82 people and conferences for up to 250 persons. ^[6] in addition the Centre also offers options for timeout, spiritual guidance and advice.

Lassalle-Institut

in 1995, Niklaus Brantschen and Pia Gyger founded the Lassalle-Institut for Zen, ethics and leadership under the umbrella of the Lassalle-Haus. This is aimed at executives in business, politics and other sectors of society with a focus on an ethics of holistic awareness.

Old Villa

Bad Schinbrunn dates back to the buildings of the old spa house "Villa" in addition to the present-day Bildungshaus. As Guest House offers simple accommodation and kitchen, it offers group rooms and accommodation for 40 people.

Global ethic

Global ethic Foundation chaired by Hans K̄ng has the seat of the Secretariat since August 21, 2006 in the Lassalle-Haus.

Jesuit community

Currently 10 fathers and brothers are among the Saini community.

Lassalle-Haus Website (German) <http://www.lassalle-haus.org/>